TAFT AND TEDDY READY FOR THE DECISIVE FIGHT

(By United Press.)

Clinton, Ill., April 8—Colonel Roosevelt wore his real fighting togs today when he opened his invasion of the McKinley-Cannon strongholds in this state with a speech ringing with denunciation of Senator Lorimer. He was cheered by a crowd of 800 persons. Roosevelt also paid his respect to Representative McKinley as a campaign manager. "I understand Mr. Taft's manager, Mr. McKinley said some time ago that this district was for Mr. Taft to a man but apparently he was mistaken. I understand he told you last week that Mr. Taft was not a politician. But Mr. Taft's whole campaign is intrusted to as thorough going politicians as there are in the United States to Messrs. Tawney, Barnes, Penrose, Cannon, Guggenheim, Lorimer, Cox and others, with whom Mr. McKinley is associated."

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago, Ill., April 8—The political leaders have given their final instructions to their lieutenants for the big ballot of ballots to be fought tomorrow. The presidential preference primary is the all absorbing topic. Colonel Roosevelt will bring his campaign to a close tonight when he makes several addresses in the congressional district which has been represented by Congressman Joseph Gannon for so many years. The Taft and LaFollette adherents are resting on their oars, their campaign being over.

Roosevel Is Hustling

(By United Press.)

Springfield, Ill., April 8—Beginning his contest of hostile territory of Illinois in which Representative McKinley, President Taft's national manager, is the political director, Colonel Roosevelt left for Clinton county today. He will make six speeches in Representative McKinley's district.

Battle Near In New York

(By United Press.)

Rochester, N. Y., April 13—Plans for the platform to be adopted at the state Republican convention which convenes here tomorrow carry the war directly to Col. Roosevelt and his followers. They denounce in specific and unmistakable terms the recall of judges, saying such legislation would put the judiciary at the mercy of the mob and compel "every jurist of repute to leave the bench to preserve his self respect."

The followers of William Barnes Jr. state chairman who are in control, made it plain today that they are certain that his plank will be adopted as outlining the issues of the coming campaign.

The Taft administration is to be warmly endorsed. The president is to be praised for vetoing the tariff measures "prepared without knowledge of the actual facts.

Workmen's compensation advocated, and the Sherman anti-trust law, as a Republican measure, will be praised.

TAFT HAS LEAD

(By United Press.)

Frankfort, Ky., April 8.—Returns tabulated from the Republican county conventions indicate that of the 2,356 votes in the state convention Wednesday, Taft has approximately 1,600 and Roosevelt 700. There are about 800 contested. The Taft men expect to control the convention, and it is said the Roosevelt forces may hold a separate meeting.

La Follette Also Fires Hot Shots

(By United Press.)

Lincoln, Neb., April 8. Denouncing Gifford Pinchot and others who professed to be his supporters and then deserted him for Roosevelt, Senator LaFollette in a telegram to Rudolph Spreckles of San Francisco today charged these former supporters with a "perversion of facts in trying to justify their desertion." The telegram in part said:

"The attempt of my former supporters to justify their desertion of my candidacy by making Roosevelt their scape goat is a cowardly perversion of facts. They know that no one had authority to withdraw me as a candidate and that no one ever professed to have such authority. They further know that I refused to permit my candidacy to be coupled with Roosevelt's candidacy. Gifford Pinchot and others who professed to be my supporters but who were in fact supporters of Roosevelt became very insistent just as soon as my candidacy began to show promising support in Ohio, Michigan and elsewhere that Roosevelt's name should be joined with me in resolutions of endorsement."

RAILROAD MAN HURT EVERY 6 MINUTES

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 8.—Every 6 minutes day and night a railroad employe is killed or injured and every 2 hours one is killed. This was the calculation made this afternoon by Senator Chamberlain of Oregon in addressing the senate in behalf of the employers' liability bill.

"The figures are appalling," he said. "It is not to be wondered there has been loud and persistent demand on the part of employees engaged in all forms of hazardous employment for a change in the doctrines which have practically cast the burdens of industrial accidents upon the employes and their families who are least able to bear them. The trend of opinion is towards a policy which will make every business bear the burden of industrial accidents where human agency is involved."

Fire Loss Is Big One

(By United Press.)

Columbus, O., April 8.—State Fire Marshal Zuber today announced that the fire loss in Ohio during January and February, 1912, was $1,158,000, or more than one fourth the entire loss during 1911. Women Taken From Burning Steamer

(By United Press.)

Montauk, L. I., April 8—Twenty-nine women and children were taken from the burning steamer Ontario of the Merchants and Miner line off Montauk Bay by the tug Tacsco early today.

The captain and crew decided to remain with the vessel, which is beached five miles from here, and fight the flames which are raging in her hold. The remainder of the passengers also elected to remain, although the tug is standing by awaiting the moment when the passengers and crew will be forced to leave the vessel. The Ontario was beached before dawn and frantic signals of distress from the vessel brought out the life saving crew from the nearby stations.

PATCHES AGAIN FASHIONABLE

New York, April 8.—The fad of wearing black patches on the cheek has been revived, and society women are appearing in public with the beauty marks.

The last time this fad was popular women wore the court plaster cut in round or square shapes, but now each woman has an individual pattern. Punches similar to those used by conductors are being sold with the courtplaster to cut it into odd figures, which is stuck upon the cheek or upper lip.

Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., appeared at a recent affair with a patch on her face.

Now It Is Goodbye To Campaign Cigar

(By Associated Press.)

Columbus, O., April 8—The distribution of campaign cigars and the purchasing of drinks by a candidate for office, is a violation of the corrupt practice act, according to a ruling made by Attorney General Hogan today. In his official finding he said: "The giving of a cigar is the giving of something of value, and is strictly prohibited by the Kimball act. If a candidate can give one cigar, he can give two and there is nothing then to prevent him from giving away a whole box. The same ruling applies to the giving away of liquor by candidates." The ruling was made at the request of Theodore Tangeman, prosecuting attorney of Wapokenata county who had the question put up to him.

Another ruling by the attorney general was to the effect that the city of Newark had no right to the use of the canal banks running through that place, despite an act passed by the recent legislature. The lands will either be sold or leased.

RELIEF IS COMING TO FLOODED SOUTH, CAIRO SAFE, SO IS MEMPHIS

(By United Press.)

Memphis, Tenn., April 8—Two thousand square miles of rich farming country is entirely covered with water and the property loss to date is $10,000,000. It is estimated 40 were drowned and this was the net result today of the disastrous flood which for nearly two weeks has swept the Mississippi valley. The end is not yet in sight. The river threatened to break through the levy in half a dozen places about the rich St. Francis basin.

When the waters recede the rich country which is now covered will be transformed into merely "thousands of acres of mud covered bottoms."

(By United Press.)

Cairo, Ill., April 8—The officials of Cairo are today claiming complete victory over the Mississippi and Ohio rivers, and though the city is now an island surrounded by a wall of water ten feet higher than the level of any city street the levees are still holding. A fall of 0.1 of a foot was noticed this morning, and the break near Memphis it is believed, will cause the waters slowly but steadily to recede. Scores of persons in Kentucky and Arkansas refused to leave their homes when the warning of the break was given and are now marooned on the roofs or the upper stories of their houses. Boats are being sent out today from Columbus, Ky. and Hickman and several other places.

River Falling At Bluff City.

(By Associated Press.)

Memphis, Tenn., April 8—The flood conditions throughout the Mississippi valley have improved during the past 24 hours. All the levees surrounding this city are holding firm, the river having gone down seven-tenths of a foot.

Three Mississippi river steamers brought more than 100 homeless people to this city from the flooded Arkansas territory, Sunday. The refugees report a heavy loss of life. Many of those who were rescued were almost naked and on the verge of starvation.

The steamer "Kate Adams" saved one woman who was perched on the roof of her floating house. She refused to get into the life boat put out to her until the captain of the boat agreed to take her dead baby on board the steamer. The baby's corpse was found in a soap box and was buried here today.

Feeding Refugees

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, April 8—2500 refugees at Hickman, Ky., are to be fed according to estimates telegraphed to the war department today. The city is feeding half of the flood sufferers. 20,000 rations are due to arrive there today.

Big Sum For Flood Relief

(By United Press.)

She is held at the Tombs pending a further investigation.

Flood In Canada

(By Associated Press.)

Farnham, Quebec, April 8.—The rapid rise in the temperature together with a constant rain has caused the Yamska river to flood the surrounding country, causing heavy damage. Capiersville, a small village, was swept away yesterday and the inhabitants had to flee to higher ground. Many bridges have been swept away. The Canadian Pacific train has been greatly delayed by washouts between Boston and other eastern points.

FIREMAN TOM PYLES HAS GIVEN UP FIGHT

The last chapter in the Pyles case was enacted Monday when Attorney Henry T. Bannon announced that he would not carry the case up to circuit court again as Mr. Pyles had agreed to abide by the decision rendered by Safety Director Wells A. Hutchins.

Relative to this matter the following statement was issued on Monday by Mr. Bannon:

With reference to a decision of the Civil Service Commission, the statute provides that "its judgment in the matter shall be final." In construing this statute, the Supreme Court has determined that "this court cannot pass on the truth of the facts alleged." The sufficiency of the facts charged against a civil service employe will be reviewed by the courts but the sufficiency or weight of the evidence establishing such facts cannot be reviewed.

The chief of the fire department charged Pyles with being incompetent. If true this was a charge of sufficient facts. To establish this charge the chief testified, in substance, that Pyles was not agile enough to quickly ascend a ladder or make a trial but before a disinterested judge, such evidence as this is no evidence at all, for it is the mere expression of an opinion by one who is ignorant of the facts upon which an opinion must be based and who has never conducted any ladder or hose drill [illegible] in order that he could determine the competency of his men. The courts cannot review even such flimsy evidence.

Two of the members of the Civil Service Commission were elected while this case was pending by the president of the board of education, shunting [illegible] trustees and [illegible] names were suggested to these municipal officers by the mayor who also appointed the director of public safety.

The entire system has by this method simply become a [illegible] partisan political machine and the letter and spirit of the law subverted. In other words there has been created just what the legislature sought to obviate and an amendment to the law is necessary to make it effective.

Mr. Pyles is not a man of means. He has to work for what he gets and he cannot afford to play at a losing game. He won his victory in court and while he would probably win his case in court again on the grounds of a conspiracy formed against him yet he would be immediately suspended and as he has a [illegible] [illegible] to dismiss his appeal. As the director evidently wants this place so much more than Mr. Pyles does he can have it. No doubt he is proud of his achievement in securing it but what of the method employed?

Back of the arrest however an interesting story developed at the hearing. Mrs. Houston is an invalid, being a victim of cancer from which she has been suffering for several months. She was taken to Hempstead hospital on Monday morning. For some time a young woman 17 years of age, who comes from a respectable family has been employed as housekeeper at the Houston home. DIZZINESS, HEADACHE TORPID LIVER AND SLUGGISH BOWELS

Sick headaches! Always trace them to lazy liver, delayed fermenting food in the bowels or a sick stomach. Poisonous matter, instead of being thrown out, is reabsorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, awful throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets remove the cause by stimulating the liver, making the poison move on and out and purifying the blood. The effect is almost instantaneous. Ladies whose sensitive organisms are especially prone to sick headaches need not suffer, for they can be quickly cured by Cascarets. One taken tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box means a clear head and perfect health for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too. Children gladly take Cascarets, because they taste good and never gripe or sicken.

ALL INVITED TO JOIN IN THE SHOW

Such interest has been manifested and progress made, that it is now assured the Pure Food Show will open in the rink Monday, April 15th and it will be quite a pretentious affair.

J. R. Allen, the general manager invites all city merchants to participate. The show will take a somewhat broader scope than its name might indicate. It is not to be only a display and sampling of pure foods, but of all things and appliances that enter into the preparation, care and preservation thereof. In other words, stoves, ranges, cabinets and utensils will have as conspicuous and necessary place therein as foods themselves.

Mr. Allen and his assitants will be at the rink from 9 o'clock Wednesday morning on until the show opens to assign space and receive plans for booths and decorations.

DON'T BE NERVOUS AND RUN-DOWN

New Tonic, Tona Vita, Will Positively Restore Your Old Vitality

Nervousness, depression of spirits, lack of energy, all run down, these are the chief symptoms of nervous debility, the modern affliction caused largely by the rush, hustle and worry of modern life.

If you are a sufferer from this all-too-common complaint and can not go to a high-priced sanitarium to have rest and diet build you up, you should read carefully the following statement by C. N. Hunt, Esq., of 602 Sixth street, Milwaukee, Wis., concerning the remarkable new tonic, "Tona Vita," that has made such a great record during the past year. Mr. Hunt says: "For a number of years my wife hase been a sufferer from a continuous run down, nervous condition and stomach trouble. I took her to a number of doctors, but none seemed to give her any relief. She grew constantly worse and her entire system became affected.

"She could hardly eat anything, and would say that the very thought of eating made her sick. She caught one bad cold after another and was always tired and languid. She had had headaches and attacks of dizziness.

"I got some Tona Vita a few months ago. My wife began taking the tonic that night and we were pleasantly surprised to notice an improvement after the second day. She is now like a different woman. The nervousness and depression are all gone, and she eats and sleeps better than she has for years. It seems wonderful to note such a change in her. I believe "Tona Vita" is worth its weight in gold."

If you are debilitated and run down, above all things try "Tona Vita." You will never regret it, as it will build you up like magic. It is the finest preparation now on the market. Wurster Bros. has the agency for this great medicine in Portsmouth. The price will be returned if it doesn't meet with your entire approval. The Approved Formula Co., Dayton, O.

LADIES FREE NIGHT AT GRAND TONIGHT

That high class comedy drama, "Miss Petticoats" will be presented at the Grand tonight by the Mae La Porte Stock Company who will play a week's engagement at the local play house. Ladies will be admitted under the usual conditions tonight.

Miss La Porte is a big favorite here and her engagement, following Lent should be a highly profitable one. The company carries a carload of scenery and each play will be presented with an entire change of scenery. Clever specialties will be introduced between acts and the company should do a record-breaking business with the season of penance out of the way and the appetites of the play-goers whetted for a series of good plays.

AS BILLY JACKSON SEES IT

Herbert Corey, in his New York correspondence to the Cincinnati Times-Star, has the following reference to a former Portsmouth man:

"One of the widely known newspaper men of Ohio, Mr. W. B. Jackson, of Columbus, registered with Mrs. Jackson, at the Waldorf, this week. It is within the bounds of possibility that he may become a fixture in New York within the next few weeks, and kiss the newspaper profession a fond good-bye. Mr. Jackson has not entered into details with any of his friends as yet. "It seems to me," he said, in the course of an interesting conversation, "that President Taft is gaining strength daily. I do not know that Col. Roosevelt's throwing his hat in the ring had any positively good effect, but I am very sure that it did not hurt President Taft any. As I see it, Col. Roosevelt is by no means as strong in fact as he was in threat. He is losing strength daily, while the President is gaining."

"How about Governor Harmon?"

"Not very strong in Ohio. The men who say they are warmly for him are in many instances doing nothing for him. In some instances they are actually working against him, though they insist that they remain loyal to Ohio's governor."

Wife Also Some "Hitter"

Wife Beater Is Up Before The Mayor

Considering the fact that "Buck" beer was flowing freely Saturday, a book-maker would have given big odds on a big police court docket for Monday morning. But when Mayor Fred N. Tynes donned the ermine robes only four prisoners responded to the call of the turnkey, the slimmest Monday court since the saloons returned.

One of the prisoners, George Lumley, faced the charge of non-support as preferred by his hard working wife, Orphia Lumley. This was Lumley's second appearance before Mayor Tynes on the same charge. He stated that he had been working in the mines of West Virginia for some time, but had been flooded out. He came home, but brought no money. He stated that he was anxious to work, but had been unable to secure employment in Portsmouth. He said that when he did work while living here he stayed at home and washed the dishes, made the beds and did the cooking.

Mrs. Lumley, who preferred the charges, conclusively demonstrated to the court, through her attorney, Harry Ball, that she had been working in a shoe factory for some time and had provided for her husband and her daughter. She stated that her husband had not given her one penny since the 27th of January. She admitted to having hit him in the head with a hammer some time since, claiming that he came home drunk and started to abuse her and the daughter of the household. She said that her husband was long on promises and short on fulfillment, and told the court that not long since he had taken her ring, pawned it and filled up on booze. The court believed her story, and gave Lumley an unmerciful scoring, binding him over to the grand jury in the sum of $100.00. Not being able to furnish bond he was led away to the bastile. He is a big, husky fellow, while his wife is frail and weak.

W. D. Brown, of St. Paris, O., a painter, was charged with loitering. He was picked up in an alley at Sixth and Raynor streets. He is an old man, and was arrested one week ago on the charge of intoxication. At that time he was flush with money and forfeited his bond. Monday, however, he admitted that he did not have a penny, and pleaded hard and eloquently for his liberty. His appeal fell on deaf ears, however, for Mayor Tynes not only fined him $10.00, but informed him that if he came before him again he would send him to the workhouse quicker than scat. Brown seems to find it a hard matter to secure work, but quite a cinch to howl up and create a disturbance. He was taken back to jail.

Joe Doe and Ben King were charged with creating a disturbance at Tracy park. Doe stated that he had threatened to bore several holes through a certain fellow that had tossed a brick at his friend King, a blacksmith, who works at Russelville, Ky., but whose parents live at 32 Thirteenth street. They admitted they had a few drinks ahead. The mayor fined them $5.00 each, but remitted the same pending their good behavior. They gave their word in a sort of cross-your-heart manner that they would hereafter travel in the straight and narrow path.

A fellow giving the name of Edwin Johnson was arrested Saturday for drunkenness. He put up a cash bond for his appearance, Monday, but when his case was called it was found that he had skipped out.

Chief of Police Samuel Phillips received word, Sunday, that eight inmates of the Lancaster Industrial Farm had escaped. No description of the boys were furnished, but the local police have been instructed to pick up any strange boys found in these parts. Since corporal punishment has been ordered abandoned at the reform farm, there have been many escapes. The inmates are willing to take a chance at escaping, knowing if they are captured they will not be whipped and are sure of plenty of bread and milk, a diet upon which most boys will wax fat.

The new saloon ordinance went into effect, Monday morning. Under the regulation of the ordinance all saloons must close by 11:30 p. m. and not open for business before 5:30 a. m. Screens must be removed after closing hours, so it will be possible for passers-by to view the interior. Mayor Tynes states that much judgment will be exercised. He expects the saloon keepers to observe all the provisions of the ordinance, and that any violations will be followed by arrests. Mayor Tynes, however, will construe the ordinance from a business man's view. He says that the proprietor of a saloon will be given ample time to count up his money after 11:30, but that no patrons will be allowed before the bar after the closing hour arrives.

Superb Easter Decorations

While dark clouds hovered without, in the interior of Holy Redeemer Catholic church was all brightness and exultation Easter Sunday.

Never has this splendid structure been so superbly decorated as it was this day. There were palms and flowers in profusion and lights innumerable, all disposed with the most effectual taste.

Father Aloysius Delahar, who is here from St. Leo, Florida, to attend his sick mother, read the mass and the choir fairly excelled itself in the music thereof.

Never in the history of the church were there as many communicants on an Easter Sunday.

Completing 500 New Cars

Roanoke Times: "The Norfolk and Western shops soon will complete the last of five hundred all steel hopper coal cars which recently were ordered to increase the equipment of the road. When the last car leaves the shops, it will be the completion of the largest single order for all steel cars that the Roanoke shops ever received. Delivery of these cars was begun February 3, so that when the last car leaves the shops, little more than two months will have elapsed since the order was placed. Some idea of the equipment of the Roanoke shops can be had from the fact that these cars were constructed and delivered at the rate of ten or eleven each day.

As soon as the large order is filled the shops will begin work on five hundred all steel gondolas, the order for which has been placed."

MEN ARE HELPLESS AS CHILDREN

When Taken Suddenly Ill—Here is a Common-sense Safeguard

Big, strong man is as a helpless infant when he is suddenly ill.

The sturdiest chap in town usually loses his self-control, and is utterly unable to regard his condition with the common sense that characterizes his every-day actions.

For example: He comes home tired, eats a heavy dinner and sits down to read and smoke away a quiet evening.

Suddenly he notices a weight on his stomach; then sharp pains around his heart, and a feeling of suffocation. Thoughts of "heart disease" rush over him, and in his agony he fears the worst.

His trouble was acute indigestion, brought on by overloading his tired stomach.

A couple of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets might have given him relief—might have saved him hours of suffering.

Carry a package of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets in your vest pocket or keep them in your room. Take one after each heavy meal, and ward off indigestion.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets relieve stomach troubles by aiding nature to supply those elements, the absence of which in the gastric juices causes indigestion and dyspepsia. They tend to aid the stomach to digest all kinds of food and to quickly convert it into rich blood.

We know what Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are and what they will do. We guarantee them to relieve indigestion and dyspepsia. If they fail, we will refund your money.

Now that Easter is Past, Let us talk to You about Spring Rugs

Now that the subject of dress has been given its customary allotment of time, and we trust has been settled satisfactorily we would call your attention homeward, to the subject of floor coverings. With the extreme care that we have exercised in the purchase of our lines of room size rugs, we could hardly present anything but a splendid assortment of the very best patterns and qualities, while store policy always takes care that the prices are right.

We could scarcely prove by advertising that our rugs were the very best and cheapest for we have at our command no different words than every carpet dealer in the country has. Two rugs may look alike and yet wear vastly different. Indeed the price of a rug might be boosted several dollars and many would not be the wiser till the rug was put to a test of wearing. The fact that Andersons' rugs have always borne up after the real test of wear, has given us a reputation for reliability that is the greatest asset we have. That we have sold these rugs for many years and our customers have experienced satisfaction, and have again bought rugs from us, is the most convincing argument we can use to get you to buy here. Every rug that leaves our store must possess the real value, and as much value as the customer paid for. For us to follow another plan would be to tear down a structure of confidence that we have been building for thirty-eight years in the city of Portsmouth.

Shall we show you these Room Size Rugs? They are 9x12 feet in Size

TAPESTRY BRUSSELS RUGS $10.00 to $18.00. BODY BRUSSELS RUGS $22.50 to $25.00.
AXMINSTER RUGS $16.50 to $25.00. ROYAL WILTON RUGS $25.00 to $45.00.

MY LADY'S MIRROR.

To darken the hair dip it in sage tea after the regular shampoo. Sage tea is not injurious to the delicate hair roots, and if conscientiously applied is certain to bring about the desired effect.

Three separate and distinct applications of soap are necessary if you desire the hair to be bright and fragrant after the shampoo. One application seldom removes all the dust and oil, and unless this is washed away a gray, lustreless look results after the drying. Massage the scalp immediately after the shampoo, and continue to do so for a few minutes every night.

Borax or ammonia is effective and harmless when used to soften hard water, though rain water is always best for the toilet.

FEATHER BOAS.

A question looming large on the horizon is whether the boa will arise on the ashes of last season and touch another zenith of their fame.

A great many say they will, although they will only be possible to the elect by reason of the cost. The only feather boas now recognized are those with long drooping and frequently knotted fronds, and it is only a "vine qua non" that they match the gown, a certain license, of course, being permitted in the case of black, but only a curtailed license.

The cachet of the feather boa, it is decreed, shall rest largely on its harmonizing character. And, that conceded, we shall, no doubt, find it more irresistible than ever.

SENSATION AT FULLERTON AIRED

All sorts of excitement prevailed at South Portsmouth, Monday afternoon, when Mrs. Dick Brown took her husband to task for making goo-goo eyes at Nannie Lewis, a Carter county product, who has been making the rounds of the camp cars on the South Side. Mrs. Brown came across the couple as they were seated among the daisies near the railroad tracks, and the first thing she did was to shy a rock at the couple, but like most throws by women, the rock missed its mark. Brown fairly tore up the ballast going down the track, while Mrs. Lewis began crying. She received a fearful tongue lashing at the hands of the irate wife. Brown returned home later and he, too, came in for an unmerciful scoring, which it is said wil leventually wind up in the divorce court.

OBITUARY

Hoover

Just one brief week's illness, and then death.

Such was the Lord's will when He so abruptly brought to a close the life of Mrs. Harriet Hoover, of Gephart, Monday morning at 10 o'clock, March 18.

Mrs. Hoover seemed to be in her usual health when she retired to rest on the evening of the 10th but became suddenly ill during the night, her illness developing into pneumonia a few days later. Long years of toil had physically weakened this gray haired, ever-busy mother, and her vitality could not withstand the shock of the crisis when it came.

This good woman's sudden death was a shock to all in the community in which she had lived for more than 18 years, and the sympathy of every one goes out tenderly and sincerely to the ones of the family who most need their mother's love and care. One son, Homer, an invalid for many years, and his mother's special care, and one daughter, Sarah, are left alone in the home. Other children living are Edmund R. Hoover and Mrs. Robert Cole of Cincinnati; Mrs. Henry P. Helbig of Portsmouth, and Mrs. William Kaltenbach of South Webster. There are also three step sons to each of whom Mrs. Hoover devoted as much care and thought as if they were her own children.

One of these step-sons is Rev. George Hoover, whose home is in Wagner, South Dakota. A telegram to him brought the immediate response: "Will be there Thursday morning. Please hold funeral for me." What a world of comfort was felt by those who longed for this brother's presence!

True to his promise, the Rev. Mr. Hoover arrived at the sorrowing home on Thursday morning and a few hours later, in the Methodist church at South Webster, he paid the last tribute of respect to the memory of his step-mother in a sermon both eloquent and touching. The minister selected as his text Proverbs 31-28 "Her children arise up and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her." And Proverbs 1-8 "My son, hear the instruction of thy father, and forsake not the law of thy mother."

Mrs. Hoover's maiden name was Daniels. She was born in Wales, Great Britain, in the year 1842, being brought to this country by her parents when she was but three years old, and her entire life, with the exception of those first three years, was spent in Jackson and Scioto counties. This pioneer family consisted of a goodly number of sons and daughters, but all are now dead but one brother, John Daniels, whose present whereabouts is not known. Many relatives are living in Portsmouth, Oak Hill, Jackson and other places. The deceased was a member of the Welsh Presbyterian church. Interment took place in the South Webster cemetery by the side of her husband.

In Mrs. Hoover's death the children suffered a double bereavement, their father having passed to the Great Beyond just 20 weeks before their mother did. The day on which she was buried, the 21st, marked the 20th weekly anniversary of her husband's death. As in the case of his step-mother, Rev. Hoover also delivered his father's funeral address.

Few words of praise are necessary in behalf of this self sacrificing and devoted mother. Her noble ministrations in caring for her children—and of one of them in particular—and her marked unselfishness in all things are well known to all who were acquainted with her. Deeds, rather than words, was the life motto of her who has gone, and who will be so sadly missed by those who most need their mother's love and care.

Relative Dead.

Thomas Davenport left Monday morning for St. Paul, where he was called by the death of his brother-in-law, J. Turley.

Jones Funeral.

The funeral of Robert Jones, who died suddenly Friday, will take place Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the United Brethren church. Rev. Howard officiating.

Stratton.

Jeremiah Stratton, 38, laborer, who has been suffering with typhoid fever for six weeks past, died at his home in the rear of 1022 Kendall avenue, Monday morning at 2:10 o'clock. He is survived by a wife and two children. The body was taken to the Dahler morgue where it was prepared for burial. The funeral will be held from the home on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will take place in Greenlawn cemetery.

Dugal M. Stewart.

The fast thinning ranks of the veterans of the civil war lost another member Sunday night at 9:35, when final taps sounded for Dugal M. Stewart, well known and highly respected citizen of Rarden. He succumbed to an acute attack of heart trouble and pneumonia. His illness covered a period of nine weeks, he contracting a heavy cold the night of the Masonic Temple fire in this city, having been a guest at the time of Mr. and Mrs. John Higgins, of Seventh street. Returning home, he took to his bed and later pneumonia developed. His condition grew worse from day to day, and though he made a courageous fight against great odds, was finally forced to yield to the ravages of the malady, passing peacefully across that boundary from which none return and to join in the grand review on High.

Mr. Stewart was born in Canada, though his parents were natives of Scotland. He first saw the light on February 17, 1846, consequently he was more than 66 years of age. When a young man he came to Scioto county, and at the outbreak of the civil war enlisted in the One Hundred and Seventeenth O. V. I., which later was made the First Ohio Heavy Artillery, serving throughout the war with distinction. He took part in all the hard fights participated in by his regiment.

Six years after the close of the war Mr. Stewart married Miss Violetta Journey, of the West Side, and their married life was unusually happy. The widow and helpmate, besides two daughters, Mrs. Dora Canary, of Marlette, Mich., and Mrs. Romie E. Taylor, wife of John F. Taylor, of Rarden, survive. Gilbert Stewart, of Topeka, Kans., and David Stewart, of this city, are brothers. Mrs. John Higgins, Mrs. William Silcox, William Stewart and Gilbert Stewart, of this city, were cousins of the deceased, and Mrs. Agnes V. Thompson, of Lucasville, is a niece.

Mr. Stewart was an honored member of Scioto Lodge, I. O. O. F., for over twenty-five years, and he also belonged to the G. A. R. He located at Rarden in 1852 and conducted a blacksmith and wagon shop for many years, and served as postmaster there under the Harrison administration. Since then he has been employed as a stationary engineer, holding the same position at the Taylor stone mill for sixteen years.

Mr. Stewart was a splendid citizen, well liked and possessing many excellent traits, and his demise has caused a feeling of much sorrow to spread throughout the vicinity where he lived so long and where he was best known. His friends were legion.

The funeral will be held from the home Thursday morning and the service will be conducted by Rev. T. F. Bagby and Rev. Peter Wolfe. Burial will be made at Lucasville, and the service at the grave will be in charge of the I. O. O. F. and according to the beautiful ritual of that order. The Portsmouth and Rarden lodges will attend in a body.

Webb.

Mrs. Bertha Webb, wife of Sanford Webb, passed away at her home, 1018 Kendall avenue, on Monday morning at 6 o'clock. She had been suffering from a leaky heart for the past few months and her death was expected. She was the widow of Alfred Demint, who it will be recalled, was run down and killed by a street car two years ago. She is survived by her husband and several children. The funeral will take place from the house on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Freeman W. Chase, pastor of the Freewill Baptist church. Burial in Greenlawn cemetery.

James.

Pneumonia caused the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Jane James, wife of John James, who passed away at her home, 75 East Sixth street, Sunday afternoon, following a 10 days' illness. Mrs. James was 63 years of age and a most excellent woman. She was a faithful communicant of the Kendall Avenue Baptist church, her pastor, Rev. Maier having been selected by her to conduct the funeral exercises. She was fully prepared to die. She is survived by her husband and several grown children. The funeral was held on Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, burial taking place in Greenlawn cemetery.

Confidence

The gold, silver, currency and bonds which this bank locks up every night in its vaults, are not our most valued possessions, notwithstanding all the care we take of them.

The beautiful and substantial house we will occupy as a banking home is an asset worthy to be regarded as valuable; but neither the house nor the wealth in the house constitute the best and most priceless possessions held by this institution.

Our most valuable possession is the confidence and respect of the citizens of this community, and we propose to keep that confidence as we have done for half a century with inviolable fidelity and care.

We welcome small accounts and pay compound interest on savings.

YOUNG MAN IS SHOT IN ROW AT A DANCE

Oakley Miller, 22, was shot, but not seriously wounded by John Banks, following a row, in which several participated, at the home of Tond Knight, on Pine Creek, near Wheelersburg, where a dance was in progress Saturday night. It appears that Charles Savage and William Green took the center of the dance floor to settle an old grudge, and then a free-for-all fight ensued, Miller going to the rescue of his friend Savage, who made his escape.

Green, his brother, and Banks then "lit into" Miller, it is reported, and gave him an awful pummeling, finally knocking him out the door. It was when Miller attempted to reenter the house, it is alleged, that Banks drew a 32-caliber revolver and fired, the bullet striking Miller in the right shoulder and ploughing its way through, ranging upwards and coming out in the back. Banks came in Monday and surrendered himself to the sheriff and was locked up until he can secure bond.

Miller's wound is not regarded as serious unless complications set in.

During the reconstruction work the spans adjacent to the shore will be surrounded by false work, but Mr. Churchill says the river will be open at all times for navigation and the false work will be lighted at night by the company.

FUDGE EXPLODES; GIRL BURNED

Miss Vina Cameron, of East Third street, was painfully burned Saturday evening while engaged in that fascinating girlish pleasure, making fudge over the kitchen range. The fudge was an artistic success, but in trying to flavor and color it, the extract caught fire and exploded. Both hands and one arm were burned. Miss Cameron attends the teachers' training school at Trinity, and now feels just like a martyr.

The musicale given in St. John's hall last night by Miss Lenora McNamara was one of the most interesting musical events of the season. The program was unusually attractive, and one wonders why these delightful evenings with Portsmouth artists are not to be enjoyed much oftener.

The overture was especially pleasing. Mr. C. E. Kean, the accompanist, is always sympathetic and artistic, and in all the accompaniments of the evening he proved himself a favorite alike with soloists and audience. Mr. William Spitzer, the violinist, is always welcomed with acclaim by audiences of the Peerless City. Mrs. Martin McMahon has a delightful soprano voice and was never more pleasing than on last evening in her choice of songs, "Ave Marie." The readings of Miss Sadie Kricker, Miss Jean Brushart and Miss Lenora McNamara, with piano accompaniment, are always much enjoyed and they received much applause on this occasion. The solos of Master Charles Pirrung and Edward McNamara added to the attractive program and their numbers were received most enthusiastically. Miss Lillian Russell quickly won the hearts of her auditors by one of her splendid recitations, as did Miss Marjorie Gerlach, who is no stranger before the footlights, having frequently delighted a number of Portsmouth audiences. John McNamara's singing is too well known to be complimented upon, as he is one of this city's favorite singers.

EASTER KEPT IN LOCAL CHURCHES

BEAUTIFUL SERVICES DREW LARGE CROWDS

Portsmouth churches were attended Easter Sunday by Thousands and thousands of citizens. Many of the churches had larger crowds than ever before, and considering the threatening weather during the morning the attendance was splendid in every one.

In many of the churches services began at Sunrise, to commemorate the hour that Mary Magdalena, Mary the Mother of God and Salome went to the tomb and found the stones rolled away.

Every church was beautifully decorated and the houses of worship never looked more attractive.

Big Day Sunday At Old Bigelow

Old Bigelow was fully equal to the Easter occasion and had splendid crowds at both the morning and evening services. The music was well chosen and the participants, from the grown-ups of the choir to the tots of the infant department, all sang their parts like professionals. They had good leadership in Miss Sagif, Miss Slaiger and others, and the organist, Mrs. Harley Marconnette, was at her splendid best.

The evening services were especially attractive. The church was well filled, many traveling men from the hotels being present. The Easter atmosphere of life and gladness pervaded the building and all hearts felt the gladdening influences.

The organ prelude was rendered by Mrs. Marconnette in splendid form, the talented organist getting everything out of the great organ that the instrument contained.

The processional, somewhat of an innovation in Methodist churches, was one of the most attractive features. A hundred persons, from children old enough to sing, to the grown ups of the choir, were marshaled in two sections in the rear rooms and marched in two columns, one going to the right and one to the left, down the aisles to the front doors and out into the vestibule, where the columns filed right and left up into the galleries, and the choir went into the choir loft. The white dresses were a beautiful sight, and the odor of Easter flowers was over all. They sang "Onward, Christian Soldiers" and all kept perfect step in slow marching time.

A chant of devotion was then sung, and invocation rendered.

Hymn 168 was sung, the congregation participating, standing.

A brief prayer was offered by Pastor Hughes, and the anthem, "Christ, the Lord, is Risen," was rendered.

There was scripture reading by the pastor and Miss Bertha [illegible] sang a solo, "Hosanna," in matchless way. This young lady is "crooning" at a rapid [illegible]

Bigelow male quartette sang a number, and the anthem, "And Hath Triumphed," was rendered.

Goddard sang a solo, "From Gloom to Glory," with [illegible] effect.

The last number was very attractive, the children in the gallery rising and singing "The Holy City," with great effect. Miss Pursell played the piano accompaniment.

Rev. Hughes arose and made a few pleasant remarks. He had been following the program and had Chairman at this point "Address by the Pastor" was on the program, he presumed this had been put in just to fill up. He had been too much interested in the program to think anything about an address, and he presumed the congregation were, in a like frame of mind, hence the address would be side-tracked for the present occasion and delivered next Sunday morning.

A duet, "Arise, Shine, For Thy Light Has Come," was rendered by Miss Staiger and Mr. Goddard.

The anthem, "Jesus Revives Again," then hymn No. 157 were sung and the benediction pronounced by the pastor.

The altar was beautifully decorated with flowers, rare Easter lilies being charmingly in evidence.

Mrs. Earl Kardin was the violinist of the evening, accompanying the organ in most of the numbers. This lady is a worthy member of Portsmouth's splendid guild of lady violinists.

At The First Christian Church

No services were held at the First Christian church, Sunday evening, owing to the fact that the pastor Rev. Crayton S. Brooks, was compelled to leave for Ladoga, Ind., to officiate at the funeral of his brother's wife, Mrs. William Brooks, who passed away, Saturday morning, following a serious operation. Many of the members of the First church attended services at the Grandview Avenue Christian church and heard an excellent sermon delivered by the pastor, Rev. E. G. Hamilton, who has just closed a most successful revival.

Fine Services At Trinity.

At Trinity the congregation celebrated the third anniversary of the beautiful temple. The services throughout the day were most appropriate and attended by hundreds. The musical program rendered was greatly enjoyed and Rev. W. C. Hartinger, the pastor, delivered one of the best sermons since he has been in Portsmouth.

At The First Presbyterian.

A very impressive Easter service was held at First Presbyterian church Easter, afternoon by Calvary Commandry Knights Templar. Sixty-five Sir Knights attended in full regalia, led by E. E. Knox, eminent commander and John A. Ives, prelate. The beautiful Easterday ritual of the Templars was used, Sir Knight John A. Ives, prelate, having the charge of the program. The First Church choir consisting of Messrs. Schwartz and Boyd, Mrs. Lynn, Mrs. Storck and Miss Berry, sang the Easter music of the ritual, accompanied by Miss Lollie Anderson, organist. A large crowd of visitors was present.

The quartette sang "Victory" by Shelley and Mr. Knust, baritone, sang Granier's "Hosanna" as special music.

Sir Knight John Dunning, pastor of the church, gave the Easter address, taking as his theme Matthew 28:2 and Mark 16:5-6, the story of the Easter Angel at the tomb. The subject was "The Fortunate Angel." Mr. Dunning in part said:

The world today is telling a tremendous emphasis on the physical and our materialism is not altogether evil. The present age will be recorded as one of tremendous impulse toward the Kingdom of God. And yet we who live in a materialistic period of history will miss some of the highest experiences of the soul unless we rise above the sordid surroundings of our environment.

The Bible is full of the idea of a spirit world. All through its pages from Eden to the New Jerusalem, "the angels" are omnipresent. Jesus accepted them as real. The spirit world is nearer than we think.

"Round our pillows golden ladders rise
And up and down the skies
With winged sandals shod
The angels come and go, the messengers of God."

On redemption morning one stands beside the empty tomb! He is the Divine messenger sent to roll away the stone! First witnesses of the Resurrection! Fortunate Angel!

He was fortunate first in the mission that was his. He was permitted to serve the king. Blessed angel—a "colaborer with God." And he served the church of God. The little band of eleven disciples were hopeless and in despair. The angel rolled away the stone, and they became the seed of Christendom. And he rolled away the stone, and they became the seed of Christendom. And he served the race. He brought the living assurance of man's eternal dream—Immortality. He was the instrument of God for the resurrection.

He was fortunate secondly in what he saw. He was a young man and clothed in the robes of purity. The resurrection was no mystery to him for he looked in the grave from the viewpoint of God's throne. The mystery to him was that Christ should ever die. But knowing the glory of Christ's exaltation, it was permitted him to see the depths of infinite love that could stoop to the tomb, to lift a fallen race.

He was fortunate last in what he said. He was permitted to be the first herald of the gospel—the good news—of the resurrection. He felt the joy of a herald of "good tidings."

Brother Knights, we too, are here to serve the king. We wear his cross on our breasts. We are sworn to serve the church, the "bride of Christ," and so doing we are to serve the world. We may share the mission of the fortunate angel.

And we may see what he saw—the infinite love of God. We may see it by rising to the heights of purity that place us beside the throne of God, where the panorama of his love is unfolded.

And we are born to be heralds of the angel's glad tidings. Our Knighthood does not call us to lift the sword in combat, nor scale the bloody parapets of Jerusalem in defense of the cross. The sword is but a symbol of the warfare of the spirit.

Let us seek to share the labors and the privileges of the fortunate angel.

Some day we shall stand in the splendor of the perfect temple whose glory Zerubabel saw from afar and the Knight who has served, and seen and said as yonder angel at the tomb, will hear the Master workman say, "Well done true Knight. Sheath thy sword. The days of thy pilgrimage are ended. Enter the joy of thy Lord."

A congregation that filled the church was present Easter evening at the First Presbyterian church to listen to the cantata "Easter Angels" given by the choir. The large chorus was under the direction of Mr. John L. Weaver, and was perfectly trained, the entire program being carried out with the finish and swing of professional singers.

The program was in two parts, the first consisting of organ numbers by Miss Lollie Anderson, organist, and solos by Miss Berry and Mrs. Alan Jordan. Miss Berry was at her best and her solo "The Triumph of Life" by Remanoczy, was faultlessly given. Mrs. Jordan sang beautifully the "Prince of Peace" by Hummel.

The second part was the cantata "Easter Angels." The piece is by Gisbel and is designed to show the angels part in the story of passion week, and up to the time of the Ascension. It is highly devotional and abounds in beautiful solo work augmented by lofty and inspiring choruses.

Miss Berry, soprano; Mrs. Storck, alto; Mrs. Lynn, soprano; Mr. Kinsey, baritone; Mr. Boyd, tenor; Mr. Schwartz, bass, and Miss Rentinger did the solo work and their numbers were faultlessly given. A trio "Joy in the Masions of Light," by Mrs. Storck, Miss Berry and Mrs. Lynn was one of the strongest numbers. The final chorus, the "Triumph Song," of the heavenly hosts from Revelation, was a grand climax to the piece.

The cantata was one of the finest the First church choir has given.

Those who sang in the church are the following:

Miss Lollie Anderson, organist of First church, presided at the organ.

All Saints Episcopal.

At All Saints Episcopal church 170 took communion at the six o'clock services and 106 at the ten o'clock services.

The ten o'clock services were very beautiful and the rector made a most impressive short talk, giving special praise to the members of Old Christ church.

Rector Powell administered the Sacrament of Holy Baptism to 10 persons, nine children and one adult, at a special service in All Saints yesterday afternoon. Quite a large number in addition to parents and sponsors were present.

The evening service was attended by a large number of people as usual and those who were present were a unit in agreeing that no more beautiful service could possibly be held.

The Rector's subject was "The Resurrection a Fact and an Inspiration." The choir gave a recital at the close of the service under the leadership of its popular choir master, Mr. E. E. Knox. Mrs. Newman presided at the organ with her customary skill and unabated enthusiasm despite her long years of service.

The altar with its decorations of Easter lilies and white blooms and its handsome brass ornaments and gleaming tapers, was a sight not to be soon forgotten.

Good Crowds Out At Sunday Schools

Easter day brought out the Sunday school pupils yesterday. The little folks braved the threatening storm and wore their new Easter bonnet and white shoes. The older folk turned out to hear the lessons and swell the attendance in their respective schools.

The attendance was as follows:

Bigelow	415
German Methodist	171
Trinity	1228
United Brethren	263
First Baptist	236
All Saints	102
Central Presbyterian	325
German Evangelical	150
Second Presbyterian	850
Free Baptist	154
Manly	462
First Christian	1076
First Presbyterian	340

Grandview	321

Big Crowds At The Army Hall.

A splendid crowd attended the meetings at the Salvation Army hall Saturday and Sunday nights to hear Capt. Kumar Kulasinge, a United States missionary from India. The captain is a most delightful talker and entertained her hearers with experiences in India.

Collected $1000

The collection at All Saints church Sunday, which will be used to pay the debt on the church, amounted to $1,000. The rector and the official board were highly pleased with the amount. This is the largest collection in the history of the church, 93 years.

The very best Gas Range made, the famous "Equity" is a home product and made by the Portsmouth Stove and Range Co., can be seen at the gas office.

Frank Page and Lee Barrows returned Monday morning from Williamson where they spent Easter Sunday with John Barrows, a former Portsmouth boy.

AN IMPRESSIVE SCENE

The services at the First Presbyterian church on Sunday were all impressive, but possibly none so much as that of the morning service when 11 "Boy Scouts" marched up to the front and received the rite of baptism and were received into full membership of this historic old church. Rev. Banning's address to them before receiving baptism was a very touching one; he spoke of the fact that thew had taken a number of degrees in scout craft, but now they had presented themselves at the house of God on this Easter morning to take the last degree; that of publicly confessing Jesus Christ, and entering His church for service. It was a very impressive scene, and one that will not soon be forgotten by those who were present.

GOOD CROWD AT THE BIBLE CLASS

Trinity men's bible class had 272 present Sunday and a royal good session. Teacher James H. Finney perhaps was as good as at any time in his whole career, and that is saying much, because Mr. Finney is undoubtedly one of the few great Sunday school teachers in Ohio.

At the opening of the session, Messrs. John McMillan, George L. Pake, E. C. Hood and Harry Mathiott sang finely "The Little Brown Church in the Dale."

Came For Funeral.

Grover Campbell, who is managing a store in Chicago, attended the funeral of John Campbell, well known farmer, which took place Sunday afternoon. Mr. Campbell's death came as a shock to many relatives and friends, as few were aware of his illness.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF THE CON-CON

Columbus, April 8—"The supreme court of Ohio is usually from two to five years behind its docket and the circuit court is looked upon more as a door to go in and out than anything else."

Thus spoke Judge Hiram Peck, of Hamilton county, on the floor of the constitutional convention last Wednesday when he rose, from his seat to speak in favor of his proposal designed to reform the state's judicial system. The proposal has the O. K. of the judiciary committee, but strong opposition has developed to it among certain delegates. The Peck proposal changes the name of the circuit court to that of the court of appeals, gives that court final jurisdiction in all cases except those involving constitutional questions, the life sentence and the death penalty. It also provides that all judges of the supreme court must agree before an act of the legislature may be declared unconstitutional.

After two days of argument on this proposal, with several amendments and substitutes pending, the convention has agreed that debate on it shall be continued next Monday night and voting on it start Tuesday afternoon. The one substitute that is being given serious consideration was presented by Judge Worthington. It materially lessens the effectiveness of the Peck proposal in curbing the power of the supreme court. The Worthington substitute would eliminate the provision requiring a unanimous vote of the judges to declare a law unconstitutional and gives the supreme court the right to pass on cases involving the construction of legislative acts.

Delegate Beatty, of Wood county, started in this week to "get" State Insurance Commissioner Ed Moore, Gov. Harmon's campaign manager. He introduced a proposal Thursday, which is designed to cut off the pay of all state officers who absent themselves from their offices upon other than official business, except while on such vacations as are provided by law. "Moore is doing practically nothing except looking after Gov. Harmon's fences," said Beatty. "The state pays him $200 a month." Beatty's proposal is in the hands of the committee, which will probably refuse to act on it.

Despite the evident desire of certain of the delegates to amend the Anderson liquor license proposal, which has passed second reading, it is now regarded as certain that the liquor fight is ended for all time in the convention. The sub committee of "wet" delegates has decided that the only amendment they would suggest to the Anderson proposal will be that the word "retail" be inserted in the limitation clause for saloons.

A public hearing will be held in the senate chamber next Tuesday night on the proposal of delegate Miller of Fairfield to protect the "moral and religious spiritual nature and Christian character of the Sabbath."

The proposal is intended to knock out Sunday baseball and other Sunday amusements in Ohio. The proposal is now before the educational committee.

Strong sentiment in favor of the proposal giving the legislature right to establish a bureau of insurance to furnish fire, life, accident and other insurance to citizens of the state, developed during the week following a plan submitted by Delegate Stevens of Tuscarawas county. The proposal was sent to the committee on corporations other than municipal where it is now being threshed out.

Following a couple of days of debate on the Elson short ballot proposal during the early part of the week, the proposal was recommitted to the committee on short ballot. The Elson plan provides for the election of only the governor, lieutenant governor and auditor and the appointment of all other state officers by the governor. It is now generally regarded as certain that the proposal will be adopted, but in an amended form. It is the present plan to attach to this proposal a provision for civil service and one for the extension of the terms of state officials from two to four years.

The legislative and executive committee has reported favorably the Miller, of Crawford, proposal to give women the right to hold office in state institutions. This committee killed the proposals by Elson and Thomas providing for one house legislatures. On Thursday, May —, the convention will hold its session in Chillicothe, where the first state constitution was framed 110 years ago. Delegate Beatty, of Ross county, presented the invitation on behalf of the city of Chillicothe. Delegate Riley, of Washington county, attempted to have Marietta substituted for Chillicothe in the resolution, but was voted down. Marietta is the oldest city in the state.

Among proposals submitted during the week are the following: by the labor committee, providing for regulation of prison labor by a constitutional provision, by Bowdle, of Hamilton, giving the legislature the right to regulate the use of expert medical witnesses and testimony in criminal trials; by Hoffman, of Hamilton, providing for secrecy in primary elections and doing away with the present methods of compelling voters to declare their politics; by Antrim, of Van Wert, providing for the classification of property for taxation; by Anderson, of Mahoning, providing that no attachment for debt shall be levied upon the wages of any head or support of a family.

RECALLS NOVEL BOAT TRIP

The trips of the Peerless across the backwater recalls the story told by the late James Hannahs, of a steamboat trip across the backwater, and further that must have been some trip. The boat, a small concern named the Thomas Scott, went to Lucasville. It was a Sunday trip and Mr. Hannahs had the bar privileges. The boat was crowded to the limit and beyond. The river was up to 65 feet, and the Scioto Valley was simply a lake all the way to Lucasville. Jim never could remember who was captain of the boat, and never sure she had a captain. Orders were issued from the bar, and Jim always said he came as near being captain as anybody else. Taking all things into account, the probability is that John Barleycorn was chief officer. Hannahs said he made money enough on the trip to buy the boat if she had been for sale. At that time the Scioto river ran differently at Lucasville from what it does now, and the bunch got off at the foot of the bluff on which the school house stands. By wireless, or intuition, or some old influence, the villagers became aware of what was coming their way, and they were out in full force from miles around. By this time Hannahs had become pretty well ashamed of the crowd, and also afraid of them, so far as it was possible for Jim Hannahs to be afraid of anything. The crowd was too big to whip and too drunk to reason with, and it was with a feeling of relief that Jim saw the last one ashore. They went up to the village whooping and yelling, really surprising the natives. They took the town, literally, particularly the hotel. They visited neighboring corn cribs and pulled out the ears and paraded through the main street with them, acting as human beings seldom act, and as they certainly never acted in Lucasville before or after. All ordered dinner and piled on top of each other to get at the hotel. Some forgot to pay for it, and some were so drunk they forgot all about it.

Coming back to Portsmouth, Mr. Hannahs said they fought all the way from the mouth of Brush Creek to the Big Island and knocked over everything except the smoke stacks, and came pretty near knocking them down. When they reached the Ohio river they ran up close to shore as far as Chillicothe street, whistling and ringing the bell constantly. The entire population was drawn to the river front, and of course all were greatly scandalized. Mr. Hannahs says he was the first man off the boat when she touched shore, and hurried up town and sought the back streets on his way home.

WILL LEAVE WEST END

Michael Gleason and daughters, Misses Anna and Emma Gleason, after many years of residence in the West End are preparing to move up town next week. They will occupy the Bell property on Third street, near Gay. No family has ever endeared themselves more to friends and neighbors than the Gleasons, and there is genuine regret in the old First ward over their coming departure from that section of the city. The Wallace family who have been living in the Bell house are moving to [illegible].

Explosion Damages Photograph Gallery

In an explosion that wrecked the front of the building he occupies on West Second street, Virgil Fowler, a local photographer, was seriously burned about the face and arms and had a miraculously close call from meeting a tragic death.

Without warning almost two pounds of flash light powder let go, the explosion being heard for several squares. Mr. Fowler was thrown against the west wall of his room with considerable force and the glass front in the building was shattered as if it were an egg shell.

A great sheet of flame burst through the front, and for a few moments a serious fire seemed imminent. But before the Seventh street department could respond to an alarm from box No. 7 the fire had been extinguished. However, much damage resulted to Mr. Fowler's camera shop. The exact amount will not be known until Mr. Fowler can take an inventory of his stock. The explosion occurred at 10:05 Saturday night.

George Jacobs, another local photographer, called on Mr. Fowler and asked for two pounds of flash light powder, which he needed immediately. Mr. Fowler, realizing the danger in handling so large a quantity of the explosive material at night, demurred at the start, but finally consented to fill Mr. Jacobs' order. He had no sooner placed the powder on the counter than a terrific explosion followed. Mr. Jacobs was blown one way and Mr. Fowler the other. Shelving came tumbling down on them, but they managed to reach the front door and turn in a fire alarm. Luckily they closed their eyes when the first flash came and their vision was not injured at all. Dr. Gault was summoned and dressed Mr. Fowler's injuries.

Visiting In Jackson Co.

The Jackson Herald had the following items of local interest:

"Mr. Volney Benton is up from Portsmouth to spend a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Benton. From here he goes to Chillicothe, which city seems to hold a real attraction for him.

"Mrs. Frank Baldwin, of Portsmouth, Mrs. Frank Huffman and daughter, of Wabash, Ind., and Mrs. Neal Gillingham, of Clarksburg, W. Va., are here to visit their brother, William Payne, who is suffering from cancer of the throat.

"Mr. G. B. Whitman, of Portsmouth, spent the week at Glade. He is making arrangements to build a couple of houses in the River City. He reports a boom in Portsmouth, especially in real estate, and notes that one man will build 26 houses this summer."

SOCIALIST COLUMN

(By Robert Dodge.)

The facts of the poverty of the mass of the people and the ever-increasing difficulty of making a bare living are reflections upon our so-called civilization that are enlisting the attention of good and intelligent men and women the world over. We have arrived at a critical time in our civilization. Within the next year we are going to have urgent need for big hearted, fearless, practical leaders to prevent anarchy and chaos.

A serious responsibility rests upon all of us to try and find a way out, and Socialists believe the remedy to lie in Co-operation. But they do not attempt to force their views upon anybody, but all the time and everywhere urge people to read, study and investigate for themselves.

Social conditions and environment are largely the result of a social order, and they to a great extent, determine the character of the individual. Socialism promises plenty for all under the new social order of co-operation, and Socialists claim under it all known interests will be the same.

That this is not possible under the present social order, all thinkers on the subject will admit; for disguise it as we may, the interests of capital and labor in a competitive system of society are, and must continue to be antagonistic. It is an inherent part of the system for which neither the individual capitalist nor laborer is to blame.

The tools of production and distribution, great machines in these days, belong to the Capitalist class, and under the present order of society this could not be otherwise.

This ownership of the tools gives the capitalists their power over the workers, who, if they work at all, must have access to the tools. Thus the capitalists control the employment of the workers and also their product.

Now, Socialism proposes that the workers, who both make and use the tools, shall also be the owners of them and the product. In short every worker shall have just what his labor produces, working cooperatively with his fellows; no more, no less.

Socialism is out for justice and nothing but the collective ownership means of life will satisfy it. Discontent has its source and is based upon unjust conditions. Man is built on the lines of justice, and he never will be at peace with the world until the world does him justice; therefore we claim it is not possible to stop Socialism by making such concessions as old age pensions, fewer hours, accident insurance, etc., yet Socialists in office will support all these things, but they never lose sight of their ultimate aim, the Co-operative Commonwealth.

Now a word to the Social Service League. A good name, and if you intend to live and act up to the name, here's our hand and best wishes. But when you quote the Communist Manifesto as the platform of the Socialist party we are bound to kick. Communism has but little in common with Socialism, and besides the world has progressed not a little since 1847. Continue your study of Socialism and try to keep abreast of the times, is our advice.

S.S.S. THE CURE FOR SCROFULA

The usual symptoms of Scrofula are enlarged glands of the neck, sores and ulcers on the body, skin affections, catarrhal troubles, weak eyes, and general poor health. The inherited poison, transmitted through the blood, pollutes and weakens this fluid, and in place of its nutritive qualities fills the circulation with scrofulous matter, which saps the vitality of the entire system. Thousands of children, born with a scrofulous taint, have spent their childhood in constant physical suffering, and grown to manhood or womanhood handicapped by ill health and stunted growth, and perhaps later some disease of the bones or joints developed. S.S.S., given in their early life, would have prevented this. It would have cleansed and purified the blood of the taint, nourished and strengthened their systems, and assisted each to grow into strong, healthful manhood or womanhood. S.S.S. is the very best remedy for Scrofula. It goes down to the bottom of the trouble, and cleanses the circulation of all scrofulous matter. It supplies the weak, diseased blood with strength and health-building qualities, and under the purifying effects of this great remedy all symptoms of Scrofula pass away. S.S.S. contains no minerals in any form, and is an absolutely safe treatment for children, even infants, or persons of any age. Literature about Scrofula and any medical advice free.

Mean Old Weather Man Spoils Parade

Maledictions of all sorts and hues were indiscriminately heaped upon the weather man Sunday for the miserable, reprehensible brand of weather he served for an Easter Sunday. A cold, bone-chilling wind was in evidence all day and very little Easter finery was displayed in Portsmouth.

The few who sauntered forth in white shoes, stockings and a spring gown flirted with an attack of pneumonia. It was a day for heavy wraps, comfortable furs and warm gloves.

But it takes more than a decided drop in temperature and a cloudy, cheerless day to keep some people from disporting themselves in a spring outfit. Had the day been propitious for spring clothes there would have been a veritable riot of colors in evidence and the rainbow parade would have been a thing of beauty and a joy forever.

With everything laid out the night before for the glorious Eastertide, many a young lady sat dejectedly before a warm fire yesterday attired in a comfortable house gown.

There was a light fall of rain Saturday night, followed by a drop in temperature. Sunday was cold and bleak until about 3 o'clock, when the orb of day poked his beaming, glistening countenance through a parting of the clouds and gleamed radiantly for the rest of the day. But it was no day for Easter bonnets.

The extremes in the temperature yesterday were 41 and 52, which are not conducive to the display of Easter togs. Monday was bright and clear.

MR. ROSS IS 93

Samuel Randall Ross, Portsmouth's oldest citizen, observed his ninety-third birthday today. He spent the day quietly at his pleasant Court street home and received many friends in his usual affable manner. He also received many rare flowers and appropriate presents. He received telegrams of congratulation from friends and relatives in New York City and Cleveland. He began the day by going to holy communion at All Saints church at 7 o'clock in the morning. It is doubtful if there was another communicant 93 years old at 7 o'clock service this morning anywhere in the United States. Mr. Ross was born in 1819, at Oxford, Chenango county, New York. He came to Portsmouth in 1844, where he has since resided, except for a short time in Cincinnati. Mr. Ross has always been a strict and pure minded Christian and attributes his good health and long life to living close to God. He says he never had a pain nor an ache until five years ago when he had a severe attack of the grip. One of his callers today wished him many returns of his ninety-third birthday. Everybody certainly hopes he may still see many happy years. His son George, of Cleveland, came home today.

Two "Macs" Want Easter On St. Patrick's Day

Not a little merriment was caused at the Trinity Men's Bible Class Sunday morning, when in discussing the earliest and latest dates upon which Easter can come, the two "Macs" of the class, John McMillen, superintendent of the Gas Co., and Will McCurdy, postmaster at Wheelersburg, insisted that St. Patrick's day was the very earliest date upon which Easter could come, intimating that this was Easter's favorite day. Their "Irish" was aroused instantly when some of the class laughed and accused the "Macs" of getting the 17th of March confused with the first of April. Surely had these two "Macs" remembered several times within their short lives when Easter had come on St. Patrick's Day, and the more the class laughed the more emphatic were their claims of remembrance. McCurdy was born on St. Patrick's day when it came on Easter, and McMillen easily remembered when he was a boy and Easter came on the great Irish day, how they would have nothing but green colored eggs and they would whip the boys that dared produce orange colored hen fruit. Who knows what evidence these two "Macs" would not have produced had not Prof. Finney come forth with the evidence to prove that for about fifteen hundred years Easter had come on the first Sunday after the first full moon after the Spring Equinox. Since the spring equinox is on March 21st, and neither of the "Macs" is over fifteen hundred years old, they quietly succumbed to the inevitable and suspected they were getting St. Patrick's day confused with April Fool day.

NOVELTIES SEEN IN THE SHOPS.

SPRING seems to have a fresh charm each year. Everything about the youngest of seasons exerts an irresistible attraction. In fact, all nature makes us feel glad to be alive. Art, too, is largely influenced by the lure of the springtime, and in no line of art is this so evident as in things sartorial.

The hats this year are certainly delightful. In a store on Fifth avenue are some of the most attractive specimens of headgear imaginable. Usually the fashion in hats seems to suit only one style of femininity, but this year fashions are so varied that practically every woman can be suited. There are small bonnets and large cavalier shapes; there are fine toques and all sizes in sailors and derbies. This store off the avenue has the last cry from Paris in trimmed and untrimmed models. The straw shapes, bare of adornment, are selling for from $1.50 to $5 and $6.

Easter is almost upon us, and for those who like to remember their friends in a small way on festal occasions there are some beautifully hand colored Easter cards from Vienna on sale in one of the downtown stores. Almost every one can afford to remember their acquaintances to the extent of fifteen cents, the cost of these cards.

Hand embroidered handkerchiefs of the sheerest lawn are selling at $1.50 a dozen. The initials are also worked by hand. The store which is selling these dainty articles is well known for the genuine worth of their goods, and this sale of handkerchiefs is sure to be one of the most satisfactory of the year.

A wide assortment of silk petticoats at very reasonable prices is to be seen at a certain store in the central shopping district. There are changeable colored skirts and some in plain colors, in taffeta and messaline. The prices range from $2.50 to $15.

Belts never seem to leave us, and this year they are back again with a will force. One store is exhibiting attractive steels-mops in black patent leather and elastic. There are plenty in colors, too, and all kinds of fascinating clasps and buckles.

Tambour muslin curtins are on sale just at present at half price. Now is the time to buy them when they are to be had at a dollar a pair.

Is there a girl with heart so dead who to herself hath not said, "I'd love to have one of those Irish lace plus that are so fashionable just at present?" If there be, her visit a certain store on Sixth avenue and gaze upon some fascinating samples, a bar pin and two baby pins, all selling at fifty-nine cents.

A store on Thirty-fourth street is displaying four dollar leather hand bags at two dollars each. They are beautiful leather with German silver clasps.

Every one loves the dainty effects to be secured by the use of flowered creations about the house. It is equally dear to the woman who must spend the hot spell in a small apartment and to the woman who goes to her summer home with the first breath of summer's heat. Cretonne is simply incomparable as a summer substitute for heavy curtains and draperies.

One of the uptown stores is selling it at very reasonable prices, and it is worth a visit to the store just to see the lovely designs.

BIG BUSINESS

Local merchants certainly reaped a golden harvest Saturday as it was one of the best days in a business way that the city has ever seen. Throughout the day and up to 11 o'clock at night the streets were simply packed with shoppers with well-filled purses and they spent their money freely and willingly. Every store received its share of the business, the little fellows getting in on the endless chain of buyers the same as the more pretentious stores.

The Portsmouth Steel Company broke all previous records by paying out $42,000.

"HERO" KILLED A SNAKE

Jack Herbst, employed at the A. Pusitari wholesale fruit stand on North Chillicothe street, proved himself a hero, Saturday afternoon, when he killed a big tropical snake that had concealed itself in a bunch of bananas. The snake showed fight, but Mr. Herbst gave it a death blow with a mallet he carried in his hands. The snake measured 36 inches and according to a snakeologist, was of the blowing viper variety.

The N.&W. Is Sued

Damages in the sum of $1999 is asked for in a suit filed in common pleas court Monday by Attorney Jas. S. Thomas for Leonard Nichols against the N. & W. for personal injuries.

The plaintiff, in his petition says that on Feb. 2, 1912, while walking along and over Fourteenth street, he was struck by one of the defendant's locomotives with such violence as to injure him permanently.

He charges that the accident was caused solely through the negligence of defendant's servants in charge of the locomotive, in that the engine was running at a high and unlawful rate of speed. Nichols also alleges that proper or necessary warning was not given.

JERSEY MAN'S STORY

There is a rugged, robust New Jersey man, George W. Thompson, by name, living in Manasquan, who has an interesting life-story to relate.

"I think Vinol is the best spring medicine on the market today, for since taking it I can say that I feel like a new man. I have regained my strength, eat well, sleep like a log."

Right now is the time for you, if you are weak and run-down, can't eat or sleep, to take Vinol, our delicious cod liver iron remedy.

Former Resident Has Made Good As Artist

Zanesville, O., April 8.—William Rannells, the talented young artist who has a studio in the Times Recorder office, has been notified that his design of the head of a collie dog has been accepted by the Curtis Publishing Company of Philadelphia, as a cover The Country Gentleman and at a price that would make many another artist sit up and take notice. The company further assures Mr. Rannels that his work is of such a nature as to be readily adapted to their publications, and it goes without saying that other orders will be received from that famous publishing company.

Mr. Rannels is fast acquiring fame in his chosen profession. He has already done some illustrating for Satire, that brilliant weekly issued by young Mr. Pulitzer, and other well known journals. Mr. Rannels bids fair to do his part toward making Zanesville famous.

Artist Rannels is a product of Portsmouth. He was born here and received his early education in the local schools.

MANY WANT DEAD MAN'S PLACE

When W. D. Baldwin, of Roanoke, was called to Columbus this Tuesday on account of the murder of N. & W. Special Agent Gearen, and was besieged with applicants wanting to fill the dead detective's shoes.

Mr. Baldwin told some friends there were no less than two dozen anxious to fill the job, and that he was puzzled on which one to choose.

It is said that one J. R. Hardman, ex-policeman, and T. & O. C. railway detective, has the call on the others, and that his appointment will be announced officially in a few days. Mr. Hardman has back of him both Chief of Police Carter and Mayor Karb of Columbus. They promised to furnish their choice all the assistance from the city force he might need at any time.

HELP BEAUTIFY CITY

The question, "What are the clubs doing for Portsmouth?" very often comes to the women who compose the various clubs of the city. Then we know the people are interested. From the origin of woman she has always been a helpmeet and counsellor in the home, and through improving every opportunity today she stands on an equality with the great men of this nation to help make conditions better. The Federation of Women's Clubs have done much, and splendid work along these lines. Interested in all reform and charitable work, they have instituted the playground, which was a great blessing to the children who were not fortunate enough to have beautiful lawns at home. This year we are to have vegetable and flower gardens for the children, managed by a committee from the Federation. We hear of all sorts of days, such as "Mothers' Day," "Fathers' Day," "Parents' Day," "Labor Day," and now the women say we must have a "Clean Up Day." This will be the greatest day of all, because everybody can get into this parade. The slogan of the Federation is, "A City Beautiful," that when we say "Peerless Portsmouth," we need not look around in fear taht someone has heard it. The committee on civic improvement has the assurance of the city officials that this "Clean Up Day" shall be a success, and every citizen is urged to clean up and get ready for the day, that means so much to Portsmouth. Let us have the haerty co-operation of all. Clean up your yards and make them a credit to your community, and the city officials will look after the streets and alleys. Everybody get ready for the first week of May. The exact date will be given out later, but get ready, for it will come.

Yours for Civic Betterment,

GEORGE P. KEEPS THINGS GOING

Slides and washouts have been numerous on the Pocahontas division of the N. & W. the past week. Not for ten years, or since the memorable flood of 1901, has Tug river been so high, and the new work recently done on this division has suffered terribly. At one place near Alnvich, where the track and banks had been washed out, five or six loads of dirt was hurriedly used for a fill.

Captain George P. Johnson has been on the scene with his private car directing all the work, and in many instances he goes right in and helps roll stones or pull trees off the tracks. He has very appropriately been compared with Teddy, the Terrible.

GRANDMOTHERS USED SAGE TEA

To Darken the Hair and Restore Gray and Faded Hair to its Natural Color.

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair and are fast following suit.

The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready-to-use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. As a scalp tonic and color restorer this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers.

The growth and beauty of the hair depends on a healthy condition of the scalp. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy quickly kills the dandruff germs which rob the hair of its life, color and lustre, makes the scalp clean and healthy, gives the hair strength, color and beauty, and makes it grow.

MINN CLIFFORD ON THE CARPET

Minn Clifford, full of bluster and brag, called at the police station Monday afternoon, and held the boards for fully one half hour, telling what a good father and husband he is.

He had been ordered in on complaint of his daughter, who telephoned the police that he was abusing his family. Clifford admitted that he had "licked" his boy, who returned home from Cincinnati on Sunday, and landed a wallop on his daughter when he found that she had telephoned to the police. He was admonished to "soft pedal" from now on, or he would be placed on the carpet right. He admitted that he had been drinking on Saturday and Sunday, but declared he was now as sober as a judge.

Doctor And Mayor In A Warm Scrap

There is a very interesting row on at South Webster just now which is stirring up the usually quiet little village. Dr. A. G. Stevens and Mayor John Grant are the principal actors in the cast. Mayor Grant started the trouble by taking exceptions to the K. of P. lodge of the village using a certain hall, and warned the members against holding meetings therein. The order of the mayor was disregarded, and the lodge held its meeting Friday night as usual. Then something happened, the mayor, who by the way is a Socialist, got mad and caused the arrest of Dr. Stevens for contempt. A hearing was had Saturday, but it is charged the mayor refused to listen to the argument of counsel for Dr. Stevens, to dismiss the proceedings on the ground that he had no jurisdiction. The court was then notified that an appeal would be taken, but his request, that the necessary papers be prepared was turned down, it being claimed that the mayor asserted that was only a plan to get the case out of his hands.

Fearing that Mayor Grant might attempt to carry out his threats to send him to jail, Dr. Stevens secured a temporary restraining order against Mayor Grant and his officer, Charles Murphy, enjoining the officials from further action in the case. The injunction was allowed by Judge Beatty on the application of Attorneys James & Micklethwait for Dr. Stevens.

WOMAN HIT BY AUTO

Frank Stanton, driving his Buick car, accidentally collided with Mrs. William Walters at the corner of Ninth and Findlay streets, Sunday evening at five o'clock. Luckily Mrs. Walters was not badly injured, although she was frightened into hysterics. She started to cross the street directly in front of the machine. Mr. Stanton, however, had control of his car, and struck Mrs. Walters a glancing blow. She fell to the street, but was up in an instant and declared between sobs that she was not hurt a particle. She is employed at the Hempstead hospital and word from there Monday was that she was suffering from several bruises, but would be all right within a short time. She did not blame Mr. Stanton a particle for the collision, saying she had not exercised due care in crossing the street in front of the machine.

ROUND HOUSE FOR B. & O.

Word was received by local B. & O. S-W officials, Monday, that work on the round house at this place would be begun within a short time. The round house will be equipped with at least four stalls and possibly five, thereby accommodating all the engines needed in the local yards. It is also likely that a new turn table will be installed. When the new round house is completed the B. & O. S. W. yards will be strictly uptodate and freight will be kept on the move with the precision of clock work.
